National Show

During the 2009 Denver Stock Show it was decided by the National Show and Sale Committee that the rotation of the National show would no longer take place. Instead there would be a series of regional shows all over the country. (Originally places that were in the rotation for the National Show) With the National Show always being held in Denver Colorado during the North Western Stock Show. This was voted on at the 2009 Denver Stock Show meeting and adopted without the consent of the national membership. With much criticism the National Show and Sale Committee are going to review this decision during a National Board meeting in May. If you are concerned about losing Iowa's place in the national show rotation we urge you to contact your national board members either by letter, e-mail, or phone. ASAP.

2010 Expo Reminder

It has been brought to my attention that the 2010 Iowa Beef Expo dates have been changed. I have contacted Mindy Trede at the Iowa Beef Breeds Council and this information has been confirmed. The new dates for the 2010 Iowa Beef Expo will be February 14th through the 21st, 2010. For those of you that have rooms reserved at the Iowa State Fair Econo-Lodge your rooms will be moved to the appropriate dates. If you have rooms reserved somewhere else you will need to contact them and get them changed. There is a state wrestling meet scheduled at the same time as expo so I would not wait too long to make these changes.
